REASON FOR VOTE

Senator Birdwell submitted the following reason for vote on CSSB 346:

Today I cast my vote in opposition to Senate Bill 346. The bill was primarily captioned to address transparency—"Relating to reporting requirements of certain persons who do not meet the definition of a political committee"—and while I am certainly a strong proponent for such open government and transparency, I had constitutional concerns on the bill. First, the bill establishes separate reporting requirements for corporations. Some corporations like labor unions are exempt, while other corporations like 501(c)(4) entities are not. In 1990, the Supreme Court determined in Austin vs. Michigan Chamber of Commerce that different restrictions on speech related to spending based upon corporate identity were constitutional. Had SB 346 been passed while that 1990 case had still been the prevailing precedent, I believe it would have been constitutional. However, in 2010 the Supreme Court decision in the Citizens United vs. Federal Election Commission case determined that the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution prohibited the government from restricting independent political expenditures by corporations, associations, or labor unions. The court also found that the First Amendment protects associations or individuals in addition to individual speakers. Corporations, as associations of individuals, therefore have First Amendment rights. Second, SB 346 treats corporations differently from labor unions and associations in what they must report. SB 346 requires that corporations which spend less than $25,000 must report expenditures, while those corporations which spend more than $25,000 must not only report expenditures, but report their donors. Again, this is a disparate treatment not only among corporations based upon their spending levels, but corporations as they are treated in relation to labor unions and associations. The reporting requirement of donors also begs another constitutional question. In 1995, in McIntyre vs. Ohio Election Commission, the Supreme Court determined that citizens had the right to engage in anonymous political speech. Since corporations now have the same First Amendment rights as individuals to anonymous political speech, requiring the reporting of donors strikes me as a violation of the First Amendment. For these reasons and concerns I voted against SB 346 today.

SENATE RESOLUTION 682

Senator Taylor offered the following resolution:

SR 682, In memory of Bob Perry.

On motion of Senator Taylor, the resolution was read and was adopted by a rising vote of the Senate.

In honor of the memory of Bob Perry, the text of the resolution is printed at the end of today's Senate Journal.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Lucio and by unanimous consent, the remarks by Senators Taylor, Lucio, and Patrick regarding SR 682 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Senator Taylor: Thank you, Mr. President. I do rise today in honor of the passing of a great Texan and American patriot. Bob Perry, who died this past Saturday, was a man of legendary compassion and integrity who had the vision to see the unlimited potential of this great state and all the people that he knew here. His passing is a great loss to our state and to the nation. As you've heard, he was born in Bosque County, attended Baylor University, and then started the very well known Perry Homes in 1968. He was a pillar of industry in our state as well as a philanthropist who moved and improved the lives of thousands of people and changed the face of our state. His commitment to his community as well as to politics is obviously well known and been well publicized, but lesser known has been his commitment and his contributions to those orphans and children in Mexico and Central America. That kind of legacy of giving and compassion will continue to inspire all of us in the years to come. Bob was, indeed, fearless in the defending of freedom and liberty and never wavered in the courage of his convictions, no matter the politics or the bad press. No challenge was too great for Mr. Perry to take on when he believed it was the right thing to do. He was also a man with deeply held faith who believed in life and family and followed the commandment of love to others and to give generously. In the words of the Apostle Paul, Bob Perry fought the fight, he finished the race, and he kept the faith. Mr. Perry's generosity and compassion, his zeal for principles and freedom, have made an indelible mark on Texas and those of us who knew him. Bob's passing is a great loss for this state and for our nation, and he will be greatly missed.

Senator Lucio: Thank you, Mr. President, and thank you, Senator Taylor. I, with a heavy heart, I, today, join with all of you, and I join with the family and countless numbers of friends of Bob Perry in mourning his passing this weekend. He was a godly man, and he was one of my personal heroes. Over the course of my career in the Legislature, we had many wonderful opportunities to develop a meaningful relationship and friendship. He, obviously, will be sorely missed by those of us that knew him and knew him well in South Texas. I also had the opportunity to work with Mr. Perry on humanitarian issues. The love he had for the less fortunate was incredible, absolutely tremendous. In his life he made an impact on thousands of people, including young orphans throughout Central and South America. I personally saw the fruits of his labors as we visited Casa Hogar orphanage in Matamoros, Mexico, which borders my Senate District just south of the border. I want to say that on that particular trip it was in the height of the war on drugs that was going on, and Mr. Perry came to me, says Senator, Senator would you take me there? And I said, You know, it's okay if they take me, but if they take you they'll hit a gold mine. We'll go, but we can't announce that we're going, to let anybody know that we're going to go visit because the press will, obviously, come to us. And we were able to go into Matamoros, visit little over 300 orphans, go into the kitchen, saw a beautiful kitchen, Senator Patrick, that was full of food based on his generosity. Saw the schoolhouse, saw the dormitories and a big reception room where we embraced each other and we cried together, we laughed together, it was a moment that I will never, ever forget. And I looked at him, and his profile, and I saw a man that truly, truly cared. A man with great compassion and a man that I knew was in union with God even as he lived and walked this Earth. So, my respect for him escalated to the heavens, quite frankly. Mr. Perry was a humble man who gave unselfishly and who never asked for anything. My 26 years here in Austin, not once did I get one phone call demanding any kind of help even though he had supported me and many others on this floor and many others that were no longer on this floor over the years. All of us can learn a lot from this man who belonged to a conservative political party but whose heart and generosity guided his personal policy position. His legacy will be one of service to God's people. Because of his good works on Earth, I know, I truly know that he is in union with God. I extend, on behalf of my family and all of us that got to know him well in South Texas, our personal sympathies to Mrs. Perry and to the Perry family. Thank you, Mr. President, and thank you, Senator Taylor.

Senator Patrick: Thank you, Mr. President. I'm proud to join Senator Taylor and Senator Lucio in authoring this resolution. And I'm really going to miss Bob Perry. My dad died in 2002. And one of the things I really miss about my dad is, I couldn't call him up and ask for his advice at times, or just counsel on how to handle a situation in personal life. And as I got to know Bob Perry, about five years after my dad died, and I knew him for a period of time, but I got to know him well after I came into office, and, like Senator Lucio said, even though he was a supporter of mine, I never had a phone call from him about anything political. But I would call him, and I would talk to him about the issues that I would talk to my father about, and he would listen, and he would give me counsel. Because no matter how old we are, we always need someone to turn to, I think, for advice at times. So, I'll really miss him. His soft voice, his gentle spirit, he was truly a humble man. When you look at the, it's reported, millions and millions of dollars that he gave to Republicans and Democrats and conservative causes over the years, you never saw him on Fox News or CNN. He wasn't in the headlines of the papers. He didn't go to political events. He cared about the republic. He cared about the country. And if you were standing tall for our republic, he stood with you. And the only time I would ever get a call is just to say thank you or encourage me if he thought I had a bad day. So, as I get older, I'm running out of people older than me to call for advice. But I'll miss Bob Perry. He was a great Texan, just an absolutely fantastic human being. Thank you, Mr. President.
