REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Watson and by unanimous consent, the remarks by Senators Watson and Schwertner regarding HB 2311 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Senator Watson: Thank you, Senator, for a couple of things. One, for yielding, but also I think it's important for people to know that you had a Senate Bill that was the companion to this House Bill. You had had it on local and uncontested. You agreed to pull it off of local and uncontested and wait on this bill so that we could have this kind of conversation about the bill. And I want everybody to know that I appreciate that you did this at my request. As we discussed, I represent a number of small-scale farmers and backyard poultry owners and have heard from a number of them that have great concern and fear about this bill and what the bill may be intended to do or may not be intended to do. I'm worried that there is some confusion, so I wanted to ask you a few questions about your bill for the purpose of making sure we have clarification of legislative intent and that we are very clear about what this bill actually does and what it does not do, so that we can also be instructive to the agency.

Senator Schwertner: Absolutely. Please, absolutely.

Senator Watson: First, in your layout you used a phrase that I think is important. You indicated that it would allow for identification only in specific animal diseases. Could you repeat that and explain what you mean by that?

Senator Schwertner: Yes, Sir. It only allows for animal traceability for specific animal disease or for animal emergency management. Currently in statute, Members, the current statute allows for other commissioned programs, and this bill strikes that language in current statute allowing, again, only for control of animal disease or emergency management.

Senator Watson: In a specific instance of animal disease—

Senator Schwertner: That is correct.

Senator Watson: So, does your bill require identification of chickens that remain entirely in the State of Texas?

Senator Schwertner: No, Sir. It does not.

Senator Watson: What about pigs, goats, or sheep that are owned by local farmers?

Senator Schwertner: No, Sir. This is not about animal ID. This is about animal disease traceability in certain disease situations.

Senator Watson: So, the bill does not allow or require that there be identification for chickens that remain entirely in Texas or pigs, goats, or sheep that are owned by local farmers.

Senator Schwertner: That is correct, it does not.

Senator Watson: If an animal is raised for slaughter and is not transported over state lines, would this bill require their identification?

Senator Schwertner: No, Sir, it does not.

Senator Watson: If an individual owns chickens to have eggs, will your bill require the identification of those chickens?

Senator Schwertner: No, Sir, it does not.

Senator Watson: Would it require or allow for there to be leg bands put on those chickens, if somebody owns chickens, say, in their yard to have eggs, would it require leg bands for those chickens?

Senator Schwertner: This bill does not require leg bands on chickens.

Senator Watson: Does your bill give the Texas Animal Health Commission the authority to require the identification or leg bands on chickens?

Senator Schwertner: Senator, currently the Texas Animal Health Commission has the authority in Chapter 161 for a number of reasons, but this limits the authority only to, again, specific disease or to control animal or emergency conditions. This limits the Animal Health Commission and restricts their authority in reference to traceability.

Senator Watson: So, what you're saying is, it does not give them the authority to require there be leg bands on poultry unless there is a specific animal disease or an emergency.

Senator Schwertner: You said it better than I did. Yes, Sir.

Senator Watson: In fact, your intent is to not allow that to happen. Is that correct?

Senator Schwertner: That is correct. I would like to see our producers to have further freedoms and less restriction from the Animal Health Commission, and this bill takes a step forward in that direction.

Senator Watson: You indicated that part of your reason for the bill is to avoid unnecessary regulation. If the agency were to start adopting rules that would allow for identification or leg bands without a specific emergency or specific animal disease, you would consider that to be unnecessary regulations and—

Senator Schwertner: I would. I'd be speaking to Dr. Ellis pretty quickly about it.

Senator Watson: Very good. In your opinion, does the Animal Health Commission have the resources to require identification of animals like backyard chicken owners?

Senator Schwertner: No, Sir. They need to be concentrated on animal disease and management of disease outbreak and not tagging chickens or other interferences with our small producers.

Senator Watson: Thank you very much, Senator. These are some of the concerns I am hearing from my district, and I wanted to have some clarity about your intent for the record.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE

(6) a state agency;

(7) an agency of the federal government; or

(f) Not later than the 10th business day after the date a governmental body receives a request for a sensitive crime scene image from a person described by Subsection (d)(4) or (5), the governmental body shall notify the deceased person's next of kin of the request in writing. The notice must be sent to the next of kin's last known address.

(g) A governmental body that receives a request for information that constitutes a sensitive crime scene image shall allow a person described in Subsection (d) to view or copy the image not later than the 10th business day after the date the governmental

SECTION 2. (a) The change in law made by this Act applies only to the disclosure or copying of a sensitive crime scene image on or after September 1, 2013.
