

SENATE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE — REGULAR SESSION

AUSTIN, TEXAS

PROCEEDINGS

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY

(Wednesday March 25, 2015)

AFTER RECESS

The Senate met at 11:03 a.m. and was called to order by the President.

Pastor Mark Wilke, Carpenter's Way Baptist Church, Lufkin, offered the invocation as follows:

Dear Father, it was the first lawyer for the young City of Dallas in the late 1800s, John Milton McCoy, who wrote a letter asking that the country send their teachers, preachers, your churches, and schools. He said, The great Lone Star State will be the bright and evening star in the United States. It is with this heart, O God, that this wonderful state was first formed and then developed. Today, O God, there are many who would like to see us fail at this ideal. There are many who would like us to simply be stuck in a mire of political pragmatism and discord. There are many who would like to see us simply exist without being the bright and evening star that our founding fathers had dreamed us to be. And so, with this in mind, my prayer for today's Senate is not that we merely enact better laws or that we merely settle into our corners making laws that make us feel like we have accomplished much. My prayer for these esteemed men and women today is that whatever is accomplished in these halls in this session will be done with the same heart and dream as our founders, that we would be a state and people who light the way for the rest of the nation when it comes to justice, to fairness, to integrity, to unity, all built on a foundation of service to one another before ourselves. It is with this in mind that I commend these men and women to You this morning, asking You to give them clear minds, pure hearts, and a passion to lead us under Your authority, by Your power, with Your guidance. And may we as a state experience Your blessing. In the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

REASON FOR VOTE

I deeply appreciate Chairman Nelson for her leadership on Senate Bill 7. We have known each other many years and I am proud to call her a friend, and to serve with her in this august body.

Senate Bill 7 is undoubtedly a step in the right direction. But we should have seized the opportunity to do more. Anything less than the phase-out and eventual elimination of the margins tax is a missed opportunity that I simply could not justify to the residents of Senate District 16.

Texas has been a model example of job creation and innovation. That's largely attributable to the tough votes and difficult decisions my more senior colleagues have made. But room for improvement remains.

The margins tax kills jobs, dampens investment, and stalls prosperity. Studies indicate that, if we phase-out the margins tax, our benefits will be significant: Job growth would be between 41,500 and 129,200; and Real personal income growth would grow between $10 billion and $16 billion; and we could expect at least $3 billion in new investment.

My amendment - before it was gutted by an amendment to the amendment - would have retained the 15 percent rate reduction to the margins tax rate in place for the 16-17 biennium, but would have added that the rate would continue to be reduced by 15 percentage points each fiscal year until the rate is reduced completely and all businesses in this state owe nothing. The amendment would have included an important fiscal safeguard: the annual 15 percent rate reduction would have been contingent upon there being a minimum of $107 billion dollars in General Revenue available.

I regret that we did not adopt my original pro-growth, pro-jobs amendment for all business owners, workers, and consumers across Texas. This was a missed opportunity.
