REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Buckingham and by unanimous consent, the remarks by Senators Taylor of Collin and Buckingham regarding SB 304 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Senator Buckingham: Thank you, Mr. President, Members. I do intend to withdraw my amendment to Senate Bill 304, but before I do so, I'd like to clarify the intention of the author. Senator Taylor, can you please speak to the purpose of adding the word "diagnosis" to the definition of chiropractic practice?

Presiding Officer: Senator Taylor.

Senator Taylor of Collin: Sure. Look, I, I appreciate your question. The language that we're adding in this, which is one word and one comma, is merely intended to clarify, and I want to emphasize the word clarify, that chiropractors have the authority to diagnose within their statutory scope of practice. We have a duty as legislators to write clear statutes that avoid long, costly lawsuits over what they mean. Unfortunately, we have exactly that with the chiropractor occupations code. The Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners has been sued two times over rules authorizing these chiropractors to render a diagnosis. It's estimated that one of these lawsuits and its appeal cost the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners $325,000. In December, the Sunset Advisory Commission voted 11 to 1 to resolve this ambiguity, helping prevent the chiropractic board from further lawsuits over the issue. This modification merely serves to clarify the intent of the Legislature and does not any way alter the practice of chiropractic or the chiropractic scope.

Senator Buckingham: Thank you, Senator. I want to be absolutely clear that we aren't inadvertently expanding chiropractic scope, which is limited to the analysis, examination, or evaluation of the biomechanical condition of the spine or musculoskeletal system of the human body. While it is just one word, it's an important word, especially when we are discussing the broader definition of the word "diagnose" in the context of medical diagnosis. Was this language designed or intended, in any way, to broaden the regions or system of the body that a chiropractor may lawfully diagnose to include, for example, the neurological, cardiovascular, digestive, integumentary, or nervous systems?

Senator Taylor of Collin: Well, I, I want to be clear that this in, in no way, and there was a very long discussion between myself and, and Senator Schwertner on the dias about this. This is in no way intended to offer any kind of expansion or contraction of scope. This is not a what, what we would refer to as a scope bill. This is intended merely to clarify that the word "diagnose," which again, is in five other parts of the chiropractic act, and I'm happy to go over that with you, if you'd like to, that the word, that the word "diagnose," which we're adding, the word "diagnose" is just to clarify that it, it is a synonym for evaluate and analyze.

Senator Buckingham: Thank you, Senator. Is there any region or system that is currently outside the scope of practice for a Texas chiropractor that will be brought into scope by passage of this bill?

Senator Taylor of Collin: This, this does not expand or contract their scope in any way. It merely clarifies that examine and analyze are synonyms for the word "diagnose."

Senator Buckingham: Thank you, Senator.
