REASON FOR VOTE

Senator Birdwell submitted the following reason for vote on CSSB 1130:

While I support the motivation behind this bill and the goals it seeks to achieve, namely promotion of healthy family outcomes associated with involved fathers, this task falls outside the proper role of government. This task is better left to churches and charitable organizations, both of which can have lasting impacts and involvement in the lives of families. I believe this bill will simply encourage the further erosion of involvement of churches and charitable organizations in communities, and rather cause people to once again look to government to solve problems that should be solved within the home and faith based organizations that promote biblical manhood. It is for these reasons that I am opposed to SB 1130.
