RECESS

Pursuant to a previously adopted motion, the Senate at 10:01 a.m. recessed until 11:00 a.m. today.

AFTER RECESS

The Senate met at 11:10 a.m. and was called to order by the President.

Rabbi Alan Freedman, Temple Beth Shalom, Austin, offered the invocation as follows:

In Psalm 90, the psalmist asks God to help us number our days that we might obtain a heart of wisdom. In Jewish tradition, we are in a time period known as the Omer. It is the weeks following Passover marking the biblical time from the exodus from Egypt to revelation at Sinai. In the Torah, God commands the Israelites to count each day during this time and the ancient sages develop the tradition of not counting down the days but rather counting up. In this way, it is emphasized that each day we should be on a path upwards, seizing the opportunity for spiritual growth and increased levels of holiness. The Omer period is not unlike this legislative session. Those who occupy these seats of power and responsibility only have a limited number of days to accomplish their work. We therefore ask You, O God, to be with the Members of this Senate and inspire them to make each day count; to see in each day the opportunity for insight and the obtaining of wisdom to govern our state for the benefit of all of its citizens. May this be a body in which the voice of every Texan counts and one in which each day counts in the pursuit not just of responsible public policy but also a heart of wisdom. May this be God's will. Let us join together and say amen.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Hancock and by unanimous consent, the remarks regarding CSSB 1732 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Yes, thank you, Mr. President, I move to suspend the regular order of business to take up and consider CSSB 1732 at this time, relating to standards for certain electric vehicle charging stations. Texas' sheer volume of roadway leave opportunity for charging station deployment across the state. CSSB 1732 provides electric vehicle charging station standards for new charging stations with the goal that Texans who drive EVs will be able to charge their vehicles on as many charging stations across the state as practicable. The record is legislative intent and it is the following, this bill is purposefully not too prescriptive because charging station technology is rapidly evolving. CSSB 1732 is not attempting to pick winners or losers in the charging station industry or favoring a certain vehicle make or model. We are simply working closely to make sure that there is agreement—and we do have agreement on this legislation—in the rulemaking, that the rulemaking at TDLR will facilitate future charging stations serving as many Texans as practicable by January of 2030. And, Mr. President, I'd like to have this statement included in the Journal as a part of the record.
