

SENATE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE — REGULAR SESSION

AUSTIN, TEXAS

PROCEEDINGS

SIXTY-THIRD DAY
(Monday, May 29, 2023)

The Senate met at 10:32 a.m. pursuant to adjournment and was called to order by the President.

The roll was called and the following Senators were present: Alvarado, Bettencourt, Birdwell, Blanco, Campbell, Creighton, Eckhardt, Flores, Gutierrez, Hall, Hancock, Hinojosa, Huffman, Hughes, Johnson, King, Kolkhorst, LaMantia, Menéndez, Middleton, Miles, Nichols, Parker, Paxton, Perry, Schwertner, Sparks, Springer, West, Whitmire, Zaffirini.

The President announced that a quorum of the Senate was present.

Chaplain James Campbell, Texas Army National Guard, Austin, offered the invocation as follows:

Heavenly Father, creator God, in the good times and in the challenging times of this life, You are still God, our rock and our refuge. We fully agree with the psalmist in Psalm 106 who proclaimed, Give thanks to the Lord for He is good, His love endures forever. Father, as our representatives conclude their legislative work, we ask that Your will, not ours, be done. We pray that Your blessing would fall upon the diligent labor of our servant leaders, so that what they have accomplished would honor and glorify Your holy name and benefit the people of the great State of Texas. We thank them, God, for their dedicated work during this session. Heavenly Father, on this Memorial Day, we remember. We remember our fathers our mothers, our brothers and sisters, and our aunts and uncles, who gave their lives in the service of this great nation. We remember their sacrifice, their devotion to duty, and most importantly, their love for one another. Father, many of us here today who have experienced war, know that during armed conflict, politics, religion, and societal differences fall to the wayside. It is only love and sacrifice for one another that rule the day. As Your Son told us, Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends. Father, may we never forget, and may we always show eternal gratitude to the families of our fallen comrades. We pray Your comfort, Your mercy, and Your grace be upon them all the days of their lives. I ask, God, that You would be with us on this day of remembrance and all the days of our lives until we are called into Your presence. It is through the name of Jesus Christ I pray these things. Amen.

Senator Whitmire moved that the reading of the Journal of the proceedings of the previous day be dispensed with and the Journal be approved as printed.

The motion prevailed without objection.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE AD INTERIM EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE

The President announced that the time had arrived for the election of President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the 88th Legislature.

Senator Huffman placed in nomination the name of Senator Charles Schwertner for the office of President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the 88th Legislature.

The nominating speech by Senator Huffman and the remarks made to second the nomination were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

President: The next order of business is the election of the President Pro Tempore. The Chair recognizes Senator Huffman.

Senator Huffman: Thank you, Mr. President and Members. I rise today to nominate Senator Charles Schwertner to serve as President Pro Tempore Ad Interim. We want to welcome his beautiful family to the Senate Chamber, as well. It's great to have you here. I rise today with great pride and I'm very honored that Senator Schwertner asked me to nominate him today. I've had the honor, the privilege, and the fun of sitting next to Senator Schwertner for several sessions. I used to sit right where Senator Campbell's at. Think I was in Nathan Johnson's seat at one time, and then I sat here, so, I've been watching you all these years. We've had a lot of fun. Some days were better than others, but it's been great to serve with you all these years, and so it's a lot of fun to stand up here today and get to nominate you. You know, we've all watched you, we know a lot about you. We know that you are brilliant and that you have a unique ability to get very, very complex issues, gather them together, forge them into legislation that has sweeping reforms and sweeping consequences for the entire State of Texas, and that is truly a gift. You're also able to forge together factions to gain the support that you need. And, I didn't know what I was going to say in this speech but a couple of nights ago we were here, and I want to quote what Senator Miles said. And he said, for your, he wanted to thank you for your tenacity in putting together what I believe will be one of the greatest bills coming out of session. When we want to, we can work together. And so, you were able to forge this coalition and vote for very important legislation. That tenacity will serve you well as you represent us as the President Pro Tempore. I watched you last night when you thought, you know, the whole grid had fallen apart, the legislation. You walked around with that green CCR form for hours with a determined look on your face, storming between the House, Lieutenant Governor, Members, the Conference Committee Members, and you accomplished something great that will have sweeping consequences for the future of Texas. That's just an example of your tenacity. You have a work ethic. I, you know, I always marvel, you get so much done, and you never have anything on your desk, ever, I don't know how you do it. Sometimes I look at Senator Kolkhorst and myself, we have stuff piled up, stuff on the floor, but not you. You'll be sitting there getting ready to do a major bill with nothing on the floor. So, your work ethic, your brilliance, your fearless loyalty to the Senate, which I have seen over and over again, will serve us all well as we move into, perhaps special sessions, into a historic, perhaps constitutional proceeding, I know you will be a great leader for us. So, it's with great pride that I nominate you this morning. Thank you.

President: Thank you, Senator Huffman. Senator Zaffirini, you are recognized.

Senator Zaffirini: Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. President and Members, I rise to second the nomination of Senator, Dr. Charles Schwertner to serve as our President Pro Tempore Ad Interim. I speak with great authority, Members, because I've sat behind him for 10 years, his entire tenure in the Texas Senate. So, I speak with experience, with insight, and frankly, with a lot of eavesdropping. So, I know him well. I only wish this were a roast because my job would be a lot easier and my speech would be a lot better. But his mother, Kay, is here, so that would be out of the question. I appreciate the opportunity to second the nomination, and when I thought about Senator Schwertner, I thought of the words by President Theodore Roosevelt that he wrote so long ago, The credit belongs to the man in the arena whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood. His place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat. No one who knows Charles Schwertner today would ever call him a cold and timid soul. And he has known the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat. So, this is the man that we honor today because of his leadership in our arena, the legislative arena. Charles Schwertner is a sixth generation Texan of Czech descent, in case you didn't know that. He was born from Abilene where he grew up, 800 miles away in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, with a jar of West Texas soil under his birthing bed. He learned his values and his beliefs and his work ethic from his family. First of all, working at the pharmacy with his maternal grandfather listening to customers and patients, learning to care for them, and learning how to listen and how to respond. But then, he also learned his work ethic and learned how to develop an ability to carry a heavy load, which has served him well in the Texas Senate. Working at farming and ranching with his father, Members, picking cotton, picking cotton and carrying heavy loads of it in tow sacks that were wrapped around his shoulders and dragged three yards behind him. That is a work ethic that has certainly served him well. And that has been unbelievable to see him grow in the Texas Senate, to see him work so hard to get things done. He could have gone to Wall Street because he loves finance and he loves high mathematics and he loves business. But instead, at 22, he became the youngest pharmacist in the State of Texas. And then he went on to UTMB, got his medical degree, became the orthopedic surgeon that he is today. He married Belinda, who's with us today, his medical school sweetheart. And their greatest claim to fame, not only that they'll be married 26 years next month, their greatest claim to fame is giving birth to these three young, handsome men, Carson, Zachary, and Matthew, listen to this, in 27 months. Every woman in this Chamber is thinking that is unfathomable. Giving birth to three babies in 27 months. If you want to visualize Charles Schwertner as a first-time candidate when he ran for State Representative at the age of 40, visualize JFK at the age of 40, charming, charismatic, a compelling, riveting, inspiring public speaker. Charles' most ardent supporters at the time say he was the opposite, painstakingly shy, endearingly goofy, and with the public speaking personality of a tree stump. That's what they said, Charles. I do not make this up. But they loved him. They loved him because he came across like real people. And the real people voted for him. And he won without a runoff in a four-way race, 56 percent. He's particularly proud, if you talk to him, about carrying almost 100 percent of a little town named Schwertner, Texas. Too bad the population is only 32. But, oh well, 100 percent is very good, at least I think so. He has come to the Texas Senate only after becoming the first State Representative to be elected after the first term. And that is an accomplishment in and of itself. Of course, his most memorable experience from that first year is his famous resolution declaring his favorite, the pecan pie, the official pie of Texas. And his most memorable experience impersonating John Whitmire in our Freshman Follies. But soon he learned to command an audience, as Senator Huffman described. He learned to command an audience, he learned to master so many issues that were critical. And with hard work and determination he improved his communication skills, and today, he rises to debate calmly, confidently, and capably, the best debaters in the Texas Senate. And that is quite an accomplishment, that truly is. Now, one of those ardent supporters, in fact the one who called him the public speaker with the personality of a tree stump, she, today, describes him as a big man with big ideas. He is a gift to the Texas Senate she says, a gift to the State of Texas. And then she asks, what big bill has there been without Charles Schwertner's name on it? And then she asks, what would Dan Patrick do without Charles Schwertner? We wonder, too, because you're a member of the A-Team, and he depends on you and so do many, many people you come across. Now, to what does he attribute his success? To his relationships, because this session he joined the elite ranks that include Senator Hancock, Senator Huffman, the elite ranks of Senators who have passed controversial, important legislation, potentially divisive, potentially about to be voted down or up along party lines, and he did it, as did they, with overwhelming bipartisan support reflecting bipartisan collaboration. That is an accomplishment. But then he goes back, he says, It's all about relationships. He says Nathan and José and I have so much in common. He says, When the three of us ran, based on the same issues, local control, constitutional carry, Medicaid expansion. One minor detail, Senator, they're on the other side of the issue, but I'm glad you have so much in common with them. Truly, I am, because those issues are important to the people of the State of Texas. Now, we all know Charles Schwertner as a strong man, a strong man who cares deeply about the State of Texas. And we all know how hard he works to do a good job in the Texas Senate, because he cares about Texas, he cares about families, he cares about his core beliefs, and he cares about conservative values. But did you know that in his spare time he plays fantasy games? Dragons and Dungeons, to be exact. And did you know that he has read every one, every single book written by J. R. R. Tolkien, including The Hobbit, and Lord of the Rings. And, did you know that he has an extensive, valuable comic book collection? He collects Marvel comics about superheroes. In fact, he even owns Iron Man #1, X-Men #1, Daredevil #1, valuable copies. And he has been credited, time and time again, by the groups that support him and who have presented him with the parts of being their superhero. They say he uses his super legislative powers to do good for their causes. Well, beauty is in the eye of the beholder, and so I consider his most important awards the ones that I have given him. In 2015, La Cuchara, the Big Spoon, for stirring the pot on more legislative issues than any other Senator. In 2017, 2019, and 2021, a three-peat, much to the chagrin of my friend,

Senator Hall, who came in a distant second, the Doctor No award for voting no on more bills than any other Senators. But my favorite is today's and it will be awarded for reasons I will describe only privately, but it is legislatively related, and it is, behold, the Greedy Piggy award. In its mouth is one of my hearing requests. And only he will understand it, but I'll tell you privately. Each of us has a special relationship with Senator Schwertner. Mine is based not only on proximity, because you see how closely we've sat for 10 years, but on the many, many disagreements we have had over the years. And our relationship is best described by that legendary exchange between Lady Astor and Winston Churchill. Imagine me going up to Mr. Chairman and for the umpteenth time asking him to set my bills. Imagine him responding for the umpteenth time, smiling, shuffling, aw shucking, blaming his sweet staff for not setting my bills, which I don't believe, causing me to say, Charles, if you were my husband, I'd poison your coffee, causing him to respond, Z, if you were my wife, I'd drink it. It's not that funny, Members. I'm watching the Lieutenant Governor. He's laughing a little too hard. Thank God that this orthopedic surgeon has a funny bone and he can laugh at jokes, he can laugh with us, he can laugh at himself. But today we honor him, not for his humility, not for his diligence, but for his leadership, his extraordinarily hard work, and for being the kind of strong man described by Theodore Roosevelt when he wrote, his face is smart but his place shall never be among those timid and so cold souls who know neither victory nor defeat. Congratulations, Charles. Mr. President, I second the nomination of Senator Charles Schwertner to serve as our President Pro Tempore.

President: Thank you, Senator Zaffirini. You always surprise us.

President: Senator Campbell, you're recognized.

Senator Campbell: Thank you, Mr. President. Well, it's going to be pretty hard to top Senator Zaffirini's not seconding your nomination, but as you've heard, Senator Schwertner started his professional career as a pharmacist, and that alone would be enough for most. However, choosing then to become a physician, he faced the challenges of medical school and I'll attest that they are definite challenges head on, followed by the rigorous and tough orthopedic residency. Now, with the, as a successful orthopedist dealing with fractures, trauma, joint replacements, and a lot more, he chose to step in and deal with a fractured government. First, as a Representative, now as Senator. His deep understanding of the government intricacies and interference in health care landed him Chair of Health and Human. But it is his business acumen and his skills and strategy that makes him well suited as Chairman for Business and Commerce. Serving as Chair of Sunset, simultaneously, with Business and Commerce is a very heavy lift. But he did them both very well. And we all recognize the great work that you've done on, and that you've accomplished on all three committees, but especially this session or even during the interim, as you were working to protect the electric grid to keep the lights on in Texas. The hallmark of his service in both the House and the Senate is his remarkable leadership skills. His insight and knowledge as well, as well as his ability to strategize, bring stakeholders together, focus on solutions, has advanced him to leadership position in the Senate. Like most sons of Texas, life's not always been easy or without challenges. But it's in those moments of greatest challenge, it is his commitment to the core values of his life that brought him through the struggles and propelled him forward. Those values have guided him and his work in the Senate. Whether putting bones back together or piecing together specific legislation, he's tough, but he has a tender heart. Senator Schwertner, surround yourself with wise counsel. Acknowledge that God is everywhere and He's willing to guide you. You are a great leader and you possess the leadership qualities that are needed in the very important position of President Pro Tempore. Members, it's these qualities that will enable and empower him as he leads in this critically, again, important position for the State of Texas. Congratulations and happy birthday.

President: Senator Huffman is recognized to close on the nomination.

Senator Huffman: Thank you, Mr. President and Members. It is my great privilege and honor to move that we elect Senator Charles Schwertner for President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the Texas Senate.

President: The question is on the election of the Senator from Williamson County, Senator Charles Schwertner, to the office of President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the Texas Senate, 88th Legislature. Will all those in favor please rise. The motion is adopted and Charles Schwertner, Senator Schwertner you're elected President Pro Tempore Ad Interim.

On motion of Senator Huffman, Senator Schwertner was elected President Pro Tempore Ad Interim.

The President declared that the Honorable Charles Schwertner had been duly elected President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the 88th Legislature by acclamation.

The President appointed the following Committee to Escort Senator Schwertner, his wife, Belinda, and sons, Carson, Zachary, and Matthew to the President's Rostrum: Senators Nichols, Creighton, Kolkhorst, Hinojosa, and Johnson.

Senator Schwertner and his party were then escorted to the President's Rostrum by the committee.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED

The President administered the Constitutional Oath of Office to Senator Schwertner as follows:

I, Charles Schwertner, do solemnly swear, that I will faithfully execute the duties of the office of President Pro Tempore Ad Interim of the Senate of the State of Texas, and will to the best of my ability preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States and of this state, so help me God.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE AD INTERIM

President Pro Tempore Ad Interim Schwertner addressed the Senate as follows:

Well, I knew what I was getting myself into when I asked Senator Zaffirini to write one of the nominating speeches. We were talking on the floor yesterday and I, and I asked if it was going to be a roast, and she goes, No, it's not going to be a roast. That was a little bit of a bake, wasn't it? Thank you. Thank you, Lieutenant Governor, Governor Patrick. Fellow

Senators, ladies and gentlemen, I'd like to recognize a few people first. My mother, on the floor, if you'll rise please, Kay Schwertner. Obviously, the people right behind me. Belinda Schwertner and our boys, Carson, Zachary, and Matthew, really proud of these guys. They were all born within 27 months, top to bottom, January 16, 2000, to April, January 16, 2000, to April 15, 2002. So, top to bottom is a short amount of time. Right? I'd like to recognize my staff. I have a whole bunch of staff throughout the Capitol over the years, but if y'all please rise. They are, without them, obviously, Senators know, without a good staff we can't accomplish much. Before I begin, I just wanted to say a word that is most fitting and appropriate on this day, first acknowledge the honored dead whose service and sacrifice can never repay. Those fallen in defense of our nation, who gave their lives full measure, devotion, in protecting our country. So, I know there are many, many, many different ceremonies going around, going on across this nation and across this state. And I believe it is fitting and appropriate that we recognize those who have truly served and given all. So, Members, and again, honored guests, as we gather in this majestic Chamber surrounded by the illuminating Texas-themed chandeliers, portraits of historical figures adorning all the walls, and the Senate composite portraits from years and years past, we cannot help but be inspired. These glimpses of history underscore the significance of the work we are entrusted with and its impact on the lives of the people of Texas. I can still recall the advice given to me by my predecessor in the House of Representatives. He said to me that as you walk the halls of the Texas Capitol, passing composites of Legislatures long forgotten, that you should reflect. That serves as a daily reminder of both the reassuring permanence of this place and our own impermanence within it. Ultimately, we might be a little more than a moment in time, but our moment is now. Today, I stand before you as your Senate President Pro Tempore, humbled and overcome by an unwavering belief and the promise of this great state. It's our responsibility to make our impact while we can and make a difference in the lives of Texans we've been sent here to serve, regardless of whether our names are ultimately remembered. In the rapidly changing world we find ourselves in, it's more important than ever that we summon the courage to rise above petty personal grievances and partisan agendas, find common agreement, and commit ourselves wholeheartedly to the service of all Texans. As we confront the challenges that lie before us, let us draw upon the indelible spirit of those Texas pioneers who blazed trails through untamed lands and overcame unimaginable hardships as they carved out a new nation in their pursuit of freedom, independence, and a better life for their children and grandchildren. As I look out from this podium, I see in the back of the Chamber, as we all do, the massive paintings of H. A. McArdle adorning the rear of the Chamber, depicting the bravery and sacrifice of the Alamo defenders on March 6, 1836. That painting right there. And the fortitude and resolve shown in a final triumph at the Battle of San Jacinto on April 21, 1836, that painting there. Timeless reminders of the principles that continue to encapsulate the spirit of Texas, bravery, sacrifice, fortitude, and resolve. These battles etched in the hearts and minds of every Texan, demonstrate that when the people of Texas are united for a common cause, there is no challenge we cannot rise to meet and no ambition that remains beyond our grasp. Let us draw inspiration from those who have come before us and shape the history of this remarkable state by joining forces and harnessing the transformative power of our collective will. By cultivating the continued growth and diversification of the Texas economy, we can support the kind of innovation and technological advancement that will guide our state to prosperity for generations to come. With our state's vibrant energy and agricultural backbone, expansive coastline and ports, thriving aerospace and medical industries, and its position as a home for businesses of every kind, Texas is uniquely, uniquely positioned to have an immense future. By building the kind of Texas that encourages small business, promotes emerging industries, and attracts new investments, we can ensure that the Texas dream remains attainable for all who seek it. To my fellow Senators, I thank you for your service. As your President Pro Tempore, it's a remarkable honor to help lead such a distinguished group of public servants and the work that lies before us. May our actions today and in the future reverberate through the annals of history. But if instead the history books are silent on our actions, let it at least be known to us assembled here that we have quietly given all like our predecessors in the composite portraits in the hallways of the Capitol in trying to leave an indelible mark on the lives and in the future of those we are privileged to represent. May we draw inspiration from our state's rich heritage and exceptionalism, bravery, sacrifice, fortitude, and resolve. And may providence guide our hand as we forge a brighter future for the people of Texas. May God bless each and every one of you and may God continued to bless this great State of Texas. Thank you.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 2377

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the State of Texas, That Warren Kenneth Paxton Jr., Attorney General of the State of Texas, is impeached and that the following articles of impeachment be exhibited to the Texas Senate:

ARTICLES OF IMPEACHMENT

Exhibited by the House of Representatives of the State of Texas in the name of itself and of all the people of the State of Texas against Warren Kenneth Paxton, Attorney General of the State of Texas, in maintenance and support of its impeachment against him.

ARTICLE I

(Disregard of Official Duty-Protection of Charitable Organization)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton violated the duties of his office by failing to act as public protector of charitable organizations as required by Chapter 123, Property Code.

Specifically, Paxton caused employees of his office to intervene in a lawsuit brought by the Roy F. & JoAnn Cole Mitte Foundation against several corporate entities controlled by Nate Paul. Paxton harmed the Mitte Foundation in an effort to benefit Paul.

ARTICLE II

(Disregard of Official Duty-Abuse of the Opinion Process)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton misused his official power to issue written legal opinions under Subchapter C, Chapter 402, Government Code.

Specifically, Paxton caused employees of his office to prepare an opinion in an attempt to avoid the impending foreclosure sales of properties belonging to Nate Paul or business entities controlled by Paul. Paxton concealed his actions by soliciting the chair of a senate committee to serve as straw requestor. Furthermore, Paxton directed employees of his office to reverse their legal conclusion for the benefit of Paul.

ARTICLE III

(Disregard of Official Duty-Abuse of the Open Records Process)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton misused his official power to administer the public information law (Chapter 552, Government Code).

Specifically, Paxton directed employees of his office to act contrary to law by refusing to render a proper decision relating to a public information request for records held by the Department of Public Safety and by issuing a decision involving another public information request that was contrary to law and applicable legal precedent.

ARTICLE IV

(Disregard of Official Duty-Misuse of Official Information)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton misused his official power to administer the public information law (Chapter 552, Government Code).

Specifically, Paxton improperly obtained access to information held by his office that had not been publicly disclosed for the purpose of providing the information to the benefit of Nate Paul.

ARTICLE V

(Disregard of Official Duty-Engagement of Cammack)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton misused his official powers by violating the laws governing the appointment of prosecuting attorneys pro tem.

Specifically, Paxton engaged Brandon Cammack, a licensed attorney, to conduct an investigation into a baseless complaint, during which Cammack issued more than 30 grand jury subpoenas, in an effort to benefit Nate Paul or Paul's business entities.

ARTICLE VI

(Disregard of Official Duty-Termination of Whistleblowers)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton violated the duties of his office by terminating and taking adverse personnel action against employees of his office in violation of this state's whistleblower law (Chapter 554, Government Code).

Specifically, Paxton terminated employees of his office who made good faith reports of his unlawful actions to law enforcement authorities. Paxton terminated the employees without good cause or due process and in retaliation for reporting his illegal acts and improper conduct. Furthermore, Paxton engaged in a public and private campaign to impugn the employees' professional reputations or prejudice their future employment.

ARTICLE VII

(Misapplication of Public Resources-Whistleblower Investigation and Report)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton misused public resources entrusted to him.

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton misused his official powers by concealing his wrongful acts in connection with whistleblower complaints made by employees whom Paxton had terminated.

The settlement agreement stayed the wrongful termination suit and conspicuously delayed the discovery of facts and testimony at trial, to Paxton's advantage, which deprived the electorate of its opportunity to make an informed decision when voting for attorney general.

ARTICLE IX

(Constitutional Bribery-Paul's Employment of Mistress)

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton engaged in bribery in violation of Section 41, Article XVI, Texas Constitution.

ARTICLE XI

While holding office as attorney general, Warren Kenneth Paxton abused the judicial process to thwart justice.

After Paxton was elected attorney general, Paxton was indicted by a Collin County grand jury for engaging in fraud or fraudulent practices in violation of The Securities Act (Title 12, Government Code). Paxton then concealed the facts underlying his criminal charges from voters by causing protracted delay of the trial, which deprived the electorate of its opportunity to make an informed decision when voting for attorney general.

ARTICLE XII

Blackard's actions caused protracted delay in the criminal case against Paxton, including the delay of discovery of facts and testimony at trial, to Paxton's advantage, which deprived the electorate of its opportunity to make an informed decision when voting for attorney general.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Sparks and by unanimous consent, the remarks by Senator Hughes regarding SR 728 and SR 729 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Thank you, Mr. President. Members, as we're all aware, our brothers Royce and Brian lost their mothers within two weeks of each other in the middle of the legislative session. And we were with them, each of us, and prayed with them and encouraged them. And it seemed like this would be an appropriate time to formally, and as a body, recognize their loss and our loss. At the service for Brian's mother, and forgive me for using our first names on such a family matter like this, but at the service for Brian's mother, learned a lot about her. And I'll mention one more thing, Brian and his brother, the judge, took part in, we got an insight into her raising those boys and what she did for them and what she endured and how she sacrificed for them. And Brian's brother, the judge, even sang a song that she had written. Don't worry, I won't try it here, but it was a special time, a special time for a special lady who raised wonderful sons, one of whom we're especially thankful for. And Senate Resolution 729 is authored by every Member of the Senate in her honor except Senator Birdwell. We didn't ask you to sign onto hers, but every one of us authored that resolution in her memory and her honor and your honor, and we're thankful for her.

And then, Senator West, we were able to spend some time with you at that homegoing service for your mother, learned so much about her. What a fighter, what an organizer, what a fighter for justice she was. We know where you got it, but we saw, we saw a lot of that. Saw pictures of her campaigning for you and got to see your family participate in that and what a special time that was. What a special lady. I'm reminded, when I think of both of these ladies and what our colleagues have been through losing them, over in Exodus, chapter 3, verse 7, the Lord speaking about His people when they're having a, going through unspeakable times. He says this, He says, I know their sorrows, I know their sorrows. And I know that's been especially real to each one of our colleagues going through this time. And so, I'm just going to share one thing as I go to my seat, and Senator West, the resolution honoring your mother was signed by all of us except for you, in your honor and her memory. I'll say one thing that was common, a beautiful theme at both of those services, they talked about this wonderful truth, this wonderful truth of God's love for us, that even though we're sinners and our sin separates us from God. He loved us so much that Jesus Christ, His Son, God Himself, humbled Himself, came to this Earth, lived a beautiful life, and then gave His life on the cross and rose again on the third day. And that promise of His resurrection is one that we can cling to with complete faith, knowing that He conquered death and He conquered sin, and He conquered the grave. And when we put our faith in Him, we can know we have a home with Him as these dear ladies did. And so, we thank the Lord for their lives and for the wonderful sons they raised. And as we move passage, we'll just remember these words from the great apostle, these words from the Holy Spirit coming to us through the Apostle Paul. He said this, For I am persuaded that neither death nor life nor angels nor principalities nor powers nor things present nor things to come nor height nor depth nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus, our Lord. We love each of you men, we're all a family here, and we grieve with you, and we're so thankful for these strong, wonderful women that raised these wonderful sons. Mr. President, I move adoption of the resolutions.

The FAIR Plan Association was established in 2005 as an insurer of last resort for owners of residential property in underserved markets. Senate Bill No. 1393 would fundamentally change the Association's purpose by making certain homeowners eligible for subsidized FAIR polices even though insurance is available to them on the traditional market. Removing unnecessary barriers that prevent capable Texans from getting to work has been a priority of mine since I first took office. Senate Bill No. 2016 would impose an unnecessary occupational-licensing limitation that hurts workers and consumers, while straining the economic engine of Texas. A dietitian should not be required to obtain a master's degree to become registered or licensed by the State of Texas.

Pursuant to Article IV, Section 14, of the Texas Constitution, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, do hereby disapprove of and veto Senate Bill No. 2275 as passed by the Eighty-Eighth Texas Legislature, Regular Session, because of the following objections:

Senate Bill No. 2275 calls out a sloppy subsection in the 1939 Act that lets the Texas Supreme Court write procedural rules for the judicial branch. Senator Hughes is right to ring the alarm about this statutory text, thoughtful lawyer that he is. To avoid unintended consequences within our courts, however, the offending subsection should be rewritten rather than repealed.
